Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include deposits held at call with banks, other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less, and bank overdrafts.

Intangible assets

Intangible assets are measured initially at cost. After initial recognition, an intangible asset is carried at its cost less any accumulated amortization and any accumulated impairment loss.

Subsequent expenditure is capitalized only when it increases the future economic benefits embodied in the specific asset to which it relates. All other expenditure is recognized in the statement of profit or loss.

The intangible assets with a finite life are amortized using the straight-line method and the intangible assets with an infinite life are tested for impairment on an annual basis. The residual values, useful lives and method of amortization of intangible assets are reviewed at each financial year end and adjusted if appropriate.

Foreign currency transactions

The financial statements are presented in USD, which is the company's functional and presentation currency. Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the exchange rate prevailing when the transaction is realized. The exchange results are recorded in the statement of profit or loss.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into USD at the exchange rates prevailing at the end of the year.

Financial instruments

Financial assets

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial assets within the scope of IFRS 9 are classified as financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, loans and receivables, or as derivatives designated as hedging instruments in an effective hedge, as appropriate. The company determines the classification of its financial assets at initial recognition.

All financial assets are recognized initially at fair value plus transaction costs, except in the case of financial assets recorded at fair value through profit or loss.

The company's financial assets include cash and cash equivalents and prepaid expenses.

Financial liabilitiesInitial recognition and measurement

Financial liabilities within the scope of IFRS 9 are classified as financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss, loans and borrowings, or as derivatives designated as hedging instruments in an effective hedge, as appropriate. The company determines the classification of its financial liabilities at initial recognition.

All financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value plus, in the case of loans and borrowings, directly attributable transaction costs.

The company's financial liabilities include accounts payable, accrued expenses and other payables.

Revenue recognition

Casino revenue is represented by the difference between the amounts of bets placed by customers less amounts won, net of bonuses and loyalty points, if any. The revenue is recognized at the fair value of the consideration.

Subsequent measurement

The subsequent measurement of financial assets and liabilities depends on their classification.

Impairment of long-lived assets

Long-lived assets, other than goodwill, are reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that their carrying amounts may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets is measured by comparison of the carrying amount of the asset to the net undiscounted future cash flows expected to be generated from the asset. If the future undiscounted cash flows are not sufficient to recover the carrying value of the assets, the assets' carrying value is adjusted to fair value. The company regularly evaluates its long-lived asset for indicators of possible impairment. To date no impairment has been recorded.

Concentration of credit risk and certain other risk

Credit risk represents the accounting loss that would be recognized at the reporting date if counter parties failed to perform as contracted. The company does not have significant exposure to any individual client or counter party. Management of credit risk involves a number of considerations, such as financial profile of the counter party, specific terms and duration of the contractual agreement. There exists a risk of non-performance, however management believes that the company's exposure to credit risk associated with non-performance of its counter party is minimum.

New standards, amendments and interpretations issued but not effective for the financial year beginning 1 January 2023 and not early adopted

There are no other standards, interpretations or amendments to existing standards that are not yet effective that would be expected to have a significant impact on the company.
