4. The Funds control, and the limited partners of the Funds have a beneficial interest in the Cayman Holdco.

Blackstone is committed to participating in efforts to combat money laundering and the funding of terrorist activities. For this purpose, Blackstone has established and implemented an Anti-Money Laundering Compliance Program ("AML Program") that is reasonably designed to prevent and detect money laundering and terrorist financing and to comply with requirements of the Bank Secrecy Act, as amended and supplemented by Title III of the USA PATRIOT Act of 2001, and other applicable U.S. laws and regulations relating to the prevention of money laundering and terrorist financing.

The AML Program includes written policies and procedures; a designated chief compliance officer responsible for administering, monitoring and overseeing the implementation of the AML Program; ongoing anti-money laundering training of appropriate personnel and an independent audit of the program.

These policies and procedures require us to conduct reasonable risk-based due diligence on limited partners before accepting them into a Blackstone-sponsored fund. As part of the subscription process, Blackstone generally will request potential limited partners to provide documentation verifying among other things, such limited partner's identity, corporate licenses, tax identification documentation and other information concerning the nature and type of investor purchasing the limited partnership interest. The AML Program also includes policies and procedures for the identification of higher risk customers, including but not limited to senior foreign political figures, the performance of enhanced due diligence, the reporting of suspicious activity, and record keeping for at least six (6) years after the termination of the limited partner's relationship. Blackstone, in its sole discretion, may ultimately decline to accept a subscription if it is not satisfied with the information provided.

Blackstone is also subject to the regulations administered by the U.S. Treasury Department's Office of Foreign Assets Control ("OFAC") and has appropriate policies and procedures designed to comply with the prohibitions and restrictions mandated by OFAC as well as other applicable government watch lists and sanctions programs. Blackstone regularly monitors and assesses the adequacy of its policies and procedures (including its AML Program and its policies and procedures related to OFAC and other sanctions programs), as well as their application to Blackstone's existing activities and investments, in light of changes in applicable law.

Our Legal and Compliance function is tasked with overseeing and taking all necessary measures in connection to the counterparties with a high-risk rating (including PEPs). To the extent that Blackstone knows or has reason to believe that our counterparties or identified beneficial owner(s) or key controller(s) is/are current Politically Exposed Person(s) ("PEP") as per regulatory definition, an immediate family member of a PEP, a close associate or a person who is widely known (or is actually known to us) to maintain a close personal relationship with any such individual, or a corporation, business or other entity that has been formed by or for the benefit of such individual, such individual is subject to enhanced due diligence.

Best regards,

Joshua Shapiro
Chief Compliance Officer, Blackstone Tactical Opportunities Advisors L.L.C.
