I am actively involved in expanding and managing family and personal business interests across multiple jurisdictions.

3. SOURCE OF WEALTH

My personal wealth has been accumulated through the following legitimate and verifiable sources:

a) Family Art Business & Investments

The Nahmad family owns and manages one of the world's most significant private art collections, comprising over 300 masterworks by globally renowned artists, including Pablo Picasso, Claude Monet, Henri Matisse, Pierre-Auguste Renoir, and Mark Rothko.

This collection has been built over decades through lawful acquisition, art dealing, and long-term investment strategies. Assets are held and managed through established family structures and secure storage facilities in Europe.

b) Real Estate Investments

I have personally invested in high-value residential and commercial real estate across multiple jurisdictions. This includes, but is not limited to, the acquisition of a luxury residential property in Tel Aviv, reflecting my ongoing involvement in premium real estate markets.

Income is derived from capital appreciation, asset management, and strategic property holdings, supported by professional advisors and compliant with applicable tax and regulatory requirements.

c) Business & Technology Investments

In addition to traditional family activities, I have independently expanded into technology-driven and entrepreneurial ventures, including investments in Israel's high-tech sector and international real estate development projects.
