Dear Sirs,

As per your request on the SOF/SOW of the caption company, please note that the project is funded primarily by the UBO. Her self-employment in Ukraine generates funds continuously and to not only provides the initial investment of around EUR 90 000, but also will support the project for years. No dividends combined with reinvestment of all profits is another source of funding operations. According to our projections, the company will see a surge of clients soon after start due to a proactive approach to expanding the market, and we can count on self-sustainability early on. Should the need arise to cover short-term needs in liquidity, small-scale loans from financial institutions are also an option. However, it is not a tool that the project relies on.

Kind regards,

Rudsel Lucas
