Dear Team

I would like to inform you that the reason the outstanding license invoices are unpaid, is that we are currently in the process of selling the corporate structure. We are in active negotiations with two potential buyers.

I have decided to no longer pursue the project, as the ongoing maintenance and operational costs have become unsustainable. We are working to ensure a smooth transition and will provide updates as the situation progresses.

We appreciate your understanding and patience during this period and we remain committed to maintaining transparent communication should a deal is concluded.

Should you require any additional information or documentation, please let us know.

Best Regards
