In addition, either Party may terminate this Agreement for convenience at any time by providing not less than thirty (30) days' prior written notice to the other Party.

With the commencement of services, the License Holder is allowed to inform the CGA accordingly and to announce on the relevant websites about the offering of the services of CADRE to their online customers, and similarly the same process can be followed for notification in other jurisdictions.

License Holder publicly claiming to offer the CADRE service without a valid subscription will incur a penal fee equivalent to two annual subscription fees and will be reported to the relevant authorities.

CADRE will provide the CGA regularly with a list of all license holders which have subscribed to the services in compliance with the ADR Policy.

CADRE will follow rules to the acceptance and processing of disputes submitted to the ADR:

- Multiple Complaints by the Same Player
Where a player submits multiple complaints that are unfounded or relate to the same incident, such complaints shall be treated as a single ADR case in accordance with the Rules of Procedure.
- Minimum Dispute Value
The ADR shall not accept disputes with a value of less than €500. This threshold shall not apply to disputes concerning responsible gambling matters unless there are no objectives from the CGA.
- License Holder Complaint Procedure Requirement
The ADR may only accept disputes after the player has fully completed the License Holder's internal complaint procedure, and at least 30 days have elapsed from the date of the final decision. This 30-day requirement shall not apply to disputes related to responsible gambling.
- Insufficiently Substantiated Complaints
The ADR should reject disputes where the player does not provide a clear and sufficiently detailed explanation and supporting evidence for the claim, except where the assessment of the dispute requires specific evidence held by the License Holder's back office and which is not accessible to the player.
- Failure to Support Claims
The ADR should reject disputes where the player does not provide supporting information or documentation reasonably required to assess the claim.
- Scope and Jurisdiction
The ADR shall reject any disputes that fall outside the License Holder's Terms and Conditions, applicable regulations, or the ADR's jurisdictional scope.

The License Holder is required to implement a Disputes Procedure. This procedure should clearly explain to the Player when and how to take a dispute to the ADR. We recommend adjusting the Terms and Conditions accordingly and to use a clause similar to the example given below.

Should a Player feel that the dispute was not resolved to his satisfaction, the Player can refer the to CADRE. CADRE is an independent alternative dispute resolution entity. The dispute resolution procedure at CADRE is free of charge for the Player independent of the outcome.

Decisions of CADRE are binding upon the License Holder and Player. The procedure before Cadre does not restrict or prejudice the Player's right to bring proceedings against the License Holderr in any court of competent jurisdiction

The annual subscription fee and/or the hourly fees are detailed in the current fee schedule. They are accepted by entering into this agreement. Any changes to the retainer or other fees shall be mutually agreed by the Parties and documented in a written addendum, and shall not be applied unilaterally.

The total ADR case fees per year shall not exceed €5,000, unless expressly approved in writing by the License Holder.

Any amendments to the CADRE 's rules or procedures shall be subject to prior agreement between the Parties and reflected in this Agreement or its addenda.

The License Holder reserves the right to engage additional ADR providers at its discretion.
