

OPERATIONAL MANUAL

ASPRO N.V. (License No. OGL/2024/565/0553)

Pursuant to Article 5.9, first paragraph, of the National Ordinance on Games of Chance (LOK), the holder of a licence granted under Article 5.1, first paragraph, is required to maintain at all times an operational manual. That manual must set out the manner and degree to which the holder complies with the provisions of the National Ordinance and with all conditions and restrictions attached to the Gaming Licence. The present document constitutes the Operational Manual maintained by the Operator in fulfilment of that statutory obligation.

I. DESCRIPTION OF THE GAMES OF CHANCE: OFFERINGS, PAYMENTS, PAYOUTS, AND OUTCOME SYSTEMS

This section describes the principal categories of Games of Chance made available to users under the Operator's licence, the financial framework governing deposits and withdrawals, the technology used to determine outcomes in virtual games, and the wagering products offered on the sports and e-sports betting module.

I.1 Transaction Handling and Payment Framework

Financial transactions on the platform are processed exclusively through licensed Payment Service Providers (PSPs). All deposit and withdrawal channels operate under formal merchant agreements with the Operator, ensuring secure processing through recognised local and international payment networks.

Core Transaction Policies

Policy	Details
a) Identity Verification	Prior to the processing of any withdrawal, the identity of the account holder must be verified in accordance with the Operator's KYC and customer due diligence obligations.
b) Withdrawal Availability	Payout requests are accepted and processed on a continuous basis, without restriction as to time of day.
c) Non-Cash Restrictions	Funds deposited via electronic wallets or digital payment systems are not eligible for withdrawal through cash-based channels.
d) Wagering Activity Requirement	Eligibility to withdraw is conditional upon genuine gaming activity. Players must wager at least the full amount deposited at minimum odds of 1.1.

Strategies designed to neutralise risk - such as placing opposing bets on the same event - do not count towards this requirement.

e) Suspicious Activity Hold	Irregular or anomalous account behaviour may result in a temporary suspension of withdrawal processing pending verification of identity or transaction legitimacy.
f) Method Consistency	Withdrawals must be made via the same payment method used for the relevant deposit. Where multiple deposit methods have been used, withdrawals are distributed proportionally across each method.
g) Account Ownership	Deposits and withdrawals may only be conducted using financial accounts and instruments registered in the player's own name.

I.2 Types of Games and Features

The following table sets out the virtual and live game categories accessible through the platform, together with a description of the applicable gameplay mechanics and outcome determination methodology.

Game Category	Description
ROULETTE	Participants place bets on the position where a ball will come to rest on a rotating wheel divided into numbered segments. The platform may offer both European (single-zero) and American (double-zero) formats. Available bet types range from specific number selections (inside bets) to broader outcome groups such as colour or odd/even (outside bets). Each spin result is generated by a Random Number Generator (RNG) to ensure full statistical independence between rounds.
LIVE CASINO	Live dealer games stream real-time gameplay from a professionally equipped studio via high-definition video feeds. Licensed dealers conduct games including blackjack, baccarat, and roulette. Players interact through a digital interface while outcomes are determined by actual physical actions - card dealing or wheel spinning - broadcast directly to the player's device. RNG technology is not used for result determination in live dealer environments.
SLOT GAMES	Digital slot machines offer themed reel configurations with defined symbol combinations, bonus features, and multiplier structures. A full payout schedule is available within each game. All spin results are produced by a Random Number Generator (RNG), guaranteeing that each outcome is statistically independent and free from manipulation.
VIDEO POKER	Each hand begins with five cards dealt by the system. The player selects which cards to hold and which to replace in order to form the highest-ranking poker hand. Payouts correspond to standard hand rankings. Both the initial deal and all replacement draws are governed entirely by RNG algorithms to preserve randomness throughout each round.

BLACKJACK

Players aim to build a hand with a total value as close to 21 as possible without exceeding it. Available decisions include drawing an additional card (hit), holding the current hand (stand), doubling the original wager, or splitting a pair into two separate hands. The dealer acts according to fixed drawing rules - typically drawing to 16 and standing at 17. Card shuffling is performed digitally via RNG-secured algorithms.

I.3 RNG Systems

All virtual game outcomes are determined through Random Number Generator (RNG) systems provided by the respective game suppliers. These systems fulfil the following functions:

- a. to guarantee that results are not adjusted in favour of either the player or the platform;
- b. to establish the outcome of each individual game session; and
- c. to apply mathematical and/or hardware-based methods of random number generation.

In particular, the Random Number Generator systems deployed across the platform:

Randomness Methodology	Seed Security	Compliance Evaluation
Apply industry-validated methods to ensure that all outcomes are fully random and unpredictable.	Are initialised using non-deterministic, securely generated seed values that eliminate any possibility of sequence prediction.	Undergo continuous performance assessments to verify ongoing compliance and preserve the integrity of the randomness standard.

I.4 Sports Betting

The Operator's platform supports wagering on pre-match and in-play events across a broad range of sporting disciplines and e-sports competitions. The bet types listed below are available to registered users:

Bet Type	Description
SINGLE BET	A wager placed on a single event outcome. The potential return is calculated by multiplying the stake by the applicable odds.
ACCUMULATOR	A multi-selection bet in which all chosen outcomes must be correct for a payout to be made. The individual odds of each selection are multiplied together. A single incorrect selection results in the entire bet being lost. Correlated outcomes are excluded automatically.
SYSTEM BET	A structured bet type comprising multiple accumulator combinations drawn from a defined pool of selections. Up to 20 events may be included, generating as many as 184,756 possible combinations.

MULTIBET	A user-defined blend of single bets and accumulators. A "Lobby" selection - one that must be correct for the bet to remain active - may optionally be designated. In the absence of a Lobby selection, the wager is treated as a System Bet.
PATENT BET	Encompasses all accumulator combinations derivable from 3 to 8 selections. A minimum of two correct picks is required to generate a winning combination.
LUCKY BET	Covers every possible single and accumulator combination for a given set of 2 to 8 picks. A return may be achieved even where only one selection is correct.
CHAIN BET	A sequence of single bets in which the full stake is applied to the first bet; any winnings are then automatically carried forward to the next wager in the sequence. Settlement occurs in listed order. The sequence terminates if the available balance reaches zero.
CONDITIONAL BET	A series of bets executed in a predetermined order, where each subsequent bet is funded from the returns of the preceding one. If a selection is unsuccessful and no remaining balance exists, the entire sequence is closed.
ANTI-ACCUMULATOR	Structured to generate a return when at least one leg of a conventional accumulator fails. Only independent, non-correlated outcomes may be included. The odds are calculated on the basis of the inverse probability of the accumulator succeeding.
ADVANCEBET	Permits a user to place additional bets drawing on anticipated returns from unsettled wagers on events commencing within the next 48 hours. Where subsequent outcomes are insufficient to cover the advance, the Advancebet is cancelled. Funds deposited after the advance is granted may not be used to satisfy the outstanding amount.

II. USER INTERFACE DESIGN AND PERSISTENT ON-SCREEN ELEMENTS

The Operator's digital platform - encompassing both the web-based interface and the mobile application - is structured around three core design principles: engagement, transparency, and regulatory compliance. The visual architecture is designed to support seamless navigation while ensuring that legally required information and player-protection tools remain consistently accessible regardless of the page being viewed.

II.1 Purpose of Visual Presentation

Player Engagement

Transparency and Clarity

Player Protection

The interface layout and visual hierarchy are optimised to provide a smooth and immersive experience, designed to support sustained user participation.

Key terms, platform features, and policy information are presented in a visually accessible manner so that players remain fully informed at every stage of their session.

Interface components actively reinforce responsible gaming standards by communicating applicable restrictions and providing direct access to support resources for users who may be at risk.

Although specific layout elements may vary between subpages in response to content requirements or promotional priorities, a defined set of visual components is maintained across the entire platform to ensure a consistent and legally compliant user experience.

II.2 Static UI Components

The following interface elements are embedded across all pages of the gaming site and the mobile application. Their display is governed by the platform's UX standards and is not conditional upon the nature of the content shown on any particular page.

II.3 Header Components

Each page includes the following elements in the header area:

Element	Description
Brand Logo	Displayed in a prominent position to reinforce platform identity and ensure brand recognition.
Main Navigation Tabs	Quick-access links to all primary game categories, including slots, live games, and sports betting.
Account Access	Direct entry point to the user's account profile, wallet balance, personal preferences, and security settings.
Localisation Controls	Interface options for selecting the preferred display language and local time zone.

II.4 Footer Components

The footer, displayed at the base of every screen, contains the following mandatory and informational elements:

Element	Description
Licensing Information	The official licence number and a statement confirming regulatory oversight by the Curaçao Gaming Authority (CGA).
Licensee Details	The full legal name and registered address of the licence-holding entity.

Age Restriction Notice	A prominent visual reminder that the platform is accessible to adults of legal gaming age only.
Terms & Conditions	Structured links to the principal operational policies governing the player relationship (e.g., deposits, withdrawals, bonuses).
Responsible Gaming Access	A direct hyperlink to the Operator's Responsible Gaming Policy and to third-party support organisations.
Regulatory Seals	The Operator's official digital compliance badge issued by the CGA.
Social Media Links	Icons directing users to the Operator's verified social media profiles for updates and player support.

II.5 Design Consistency and Regulatory Alignment

Internal UX/UI standards govern the placement, visibility, and functionality of all interface components. Periodic stylistic enhancements may be introduced; however, the presence and accessibility of all elements listed in this section are maintained as a constant throughout every user session, in fulfilment of applicable legal and licensing requirements.

III. ACCESS RESTRICTION PROTOCOLS FOR INELIGIBLE USERS

The Operator has established a multi-layered system of technical controls to prevent platform access by individuals who are prohibited from participating - whether by operation of law, regulatory requirement, or voluntary self-restriction. These measures are applied across all platform entry points and are subject to regular review and enhancement in line with current legal standards and industry practice.

III.1 Identity and Account Integrity

Measure	Description
Verification of Contact Details	At registration, each new user is required to confirm either their email address or mobile telephone number via a confirmation link or one-time password (OTP), ensuring that contact information is valid and belongs to the registrant.
Detection of Duplicate Accounts	The platform enforces a strict one-account-per-user policy. Automated screening monitors for shared indicators - including IP address patterns, device fingerprints, and overlapping personal data - and flags potential duplicate registrations for manual review.

Know Your Customer (KYC) Triggers	Full identity verification is required in the following circumstances: (i) upon reaching predefined cumulative deposit thresholds; (ii) prior to processing a user's first withdrawal; (iii) where suspicious or unusual account activity is identified; and (iv) as part of scheduled periodic review procedures.
Manual Review of Identification	Where automated systems are unable to conclusively verify a user's identity, the Compliance Team undertakes a manual examination of submitted documentation to confirm eligibility.

III.2 Age Restriction Enforcement

Measure	Description
Mandatory Date of Birth Declaration	Users are required to enter their full date of birth during account registration. The platform automatically checks this information to confirm that the registrant has reached the minimum legal age of 18 years.
Automated Identity Verification	As part of age validation and fraud prevention, the system may request a government-issued identity document. Submitted documents are processed through certified third-party KYC solutions for authenticity checks and age confirmation.
Immediate Suspension of Underage Accounts	Where it is established at any point that a user has not reached the legal age threshold, the account is closed permanently. All associated activity and financial transactions are voided in accordance with the platform's Terms and Conditions.
Manual Review by Compliance Personnel	Where automated age verification is inconclusive, the Compliance Team carries out a manual assessment of submitted documentation to determine whether the user satisfies the platform's age eligibility criteria.

III.3 Geographic Access Restrictions

Measure	Description
IP-Based Location Monitoring	Automated IP detection is used to establish the physical location of connecting users. Access is blocked immediately for users connecting from jurisdictions in which online gambling is prohibited or unlicensed.
Dynamic Territory Restrictions	A regularly updated register of restricted regions is maintained. Access controls are adjusted in real time as jurisdictional regulations change.
Enforcement of Regional Bans	Users confirmed as residing in a prohibited territory are denied access to the platform. Accounts found to have circumvented geographic restrictions may be suspended, with associated transactions voided pursuant to the Operator's internal policy.

III.4 Device Identification and Session Management

Measure	Description
Device Profiling	Technical attributes of connecting devices - including browser type, screen resolution, operating system version, and installed plug-ins - are collected to create a session-level profile. This information is used to detect and act upon attempts to operate multiple accounts from the same device configuration.
Inactivity-Based Logout	Sessions are terminated automatically following a defined period of inactivity, reducing the risk of unauthorised access from shared or unattended devices.
Login Session Oversight	Concurrent logins from multiple devices are generally restricted. Access attempts from unrecognised locations or devices may require completion of additional verification steps.

III.5 Login Protection Measures

Measure	Description
Automated Threat Prevention	CAPTCHA challenges are deployed at login and account registration to block automated bot traffic and protect against mass account creation or credential stuffing attacks.
Login Attempt Surveillance	The system records failed authentication attempts. Accounts exceeding the permitted number of failed logins are temporarily suspended and referred to the security team for investigation.
Multi-Factor Authentication (MFA)	Users may activate MFA to strengthen account security, requiring a verification code - delivered via authenticator application or SMS - in addition to the standard password.

III.6 Fraud Monitoring and Behavioural Analysis

Measure	Description
Transaction Rate Controls	Velocity limits govern the frequency and volume of financial transactions. These controls are intended to deter automation and to flag sudden changes in user behaviour that may indicate account compromise.
Real-Time Risk Alerts	Specific actions - including frequent changes of access location, use of flagged payment instruments, or rapid sequential transactions - generate immediate alerts for review by the fraud team.

User Behaviour Monitoring

Analytical tools continuously evaluate player activity across deposits, gameplay, withdrawals, and login patterns to detect anomalies that may indicate fraudulent conduct or misuse.

III.7 Enforcement Against Prohibited Users

Measure	Description
Internal Blacklisting	Accounts linked to confirmed breaches of platform policy - including fraudulent chargebacks or identity misrepresentation - are recorded in a secured internal register and permanently barred from accessing the platform.
Voluntary Exclusion Controls	Users who have activated a self-exclusion or cooling-off period are blocked at the system level from logging in, placing wagers, or conducting any financial transactions during the restricted period.

IV. SECURE STORAGE AND PROTECTION OF PLAYER DATA

The Operator applies rigorous technical and organisational measures to protect all categories of personal data held in connection with its players, including identity verification records, financial transaction histories, communication logs, and account credentials.

IV.1 GDPR and Local Privacy Compliance

Data handling practices across the platform are aligned with the requirements of the EU's General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) and applicable Curaçao privacy regulations.

Principle	Implementation
Minimal Data Collection	Only data that is strictly necessary for regulatory, operational, and security purposes - including KYC, AML, and Responsible Gaming requirements - is collected and processed.
User Rights	Players are entitled to request access to, rectification of, or deletion of their personal data. Verified requests are handled within legally prescribed timeframes.
Documentation	Security procedures, access logs, audit findings, and training records are maintained in documented form as evidence of ongoing compliance and accountability.

IV.2 Infrastructure and Hosting Standards

All player data - encompassing personal details, identity documents, transaction records, and correspondence - is stored in a Tier IV-certified data centre. The facility is constructed to support continuous operations through fully redundant power supply, cooling, and network connectivity systems. Physical security measures including round-the-clock surveillance, climate management, and fire suppression protect the infrastructure from unauthorised entry and environmental damage.

IV.3 Access Controls and Audit Logging

Access to systems holding personal data is controlled on a role-based basis, ensuring that staff interact only with information relevant to their defined function. Elevated or privileged access requires multi-factor authentication and is subject to enhanced security protocols. A comprehensive audit log is maintained for all access events and data modifications.

IV.4 High Availability and Regulator Access

The Operator maintains near-continuous data availability in support of both operational requirements and regulatory audit functions. Active-standby server configurations and live data replication ensure that both current and historical records remain accessible at all times, including to supervisory authorities.

IV.5 Retention and Secure Disposal

Player data is retained strictly for the duration required by applicable law. Under AML legislation, transaction records must be kept for a minimum of five years. Upon expiry of the applicable retention period - or following verified account closure - data is permanently and securely destroyed.

V. TECHNICAL INFRASTRUCTURE AND EMERGENCY RESPONSE PLAN

The Operator's technical environment is architected to support continuous service delivery through a combination of resilient hosting infrastructure, documented recovery procedures, and redundant data backup mechanisms. This design ensures that core platform functions can be maintained and restored within defined timeframes in the event of hardware failure, cyber incident, or physical disruption.

V.1 Core Systems and Hosting Setup

Financial, administrative, and gaming systems are hosted within the Operator's own data centre environment. The facility provides:

- a. a virtualised server infrastructure for flexible resource allocation;
- b. physically secured server rooms with controlled entry; and
- c. scheduled data backup routines designed to support rapid recovery and operational continuity.

V.2 Network Structure and Backup Strategy

The network architecture is designed to minimise downtime and facilitate rapid restoration:

- a. core routing and switching equipment is maintained with available replacement units;
- b. archived copies of network configuration files are retained to expedite restoration; and
- c. regular backups cover all critical data sets and system parameters.

V.3 Disaster Recovery Procedures

Upon identification of a system failure or physical disruption, a structured recovery plan is activated. Responsibilities are pre-assigned to specific personnel, and each phase is supported by documented checklists:

Recovery Phase	Procedure
System Recovery	Core systems are rebuilt from verified system images. Application data is restored and up-to-date security patches are applied before systems are returned to production.
Hardware Recovery	Defective components are replaced with on-site spares or pre-staged replacement units. Vendor escalation contacts are available for emergency procurement where necessary.
Network Restoration	Network connectivity is reinstated using secondary ISP connections and reconfigured VPN tunnels. All monitoring and alerting services are restarted.
Endpoint Access	Staff workstations are restored using standard imaging tools once core backend services are operational. Guidance for remote access is circulated to all affected personnel.
Communication Tools	If primary email infrastructure is unavailable, operations transfer to cloud-based mail services. Telephony systems are rerouted or forwarded to mobile devices, and voicemail messages are updated accordingly.

V.4 Staff Coordination and Communication

Clear command and communication protocols are pre-established for emergency scenarios:

- a. Status briefings and progress dashboards are used to keep all stakeholders informed; standardised message templates for internal alerts and external notifications are prepared in advance.
- b. A designated Incident Lead assumes overall command and coordinates the response across all functional teams.

- c. Functional leads manage their respective domains: IT (systems restoration), Administration (logistics), Facilities (physical premises), and Communications (internal and external messaging).
- d. Redundant communication channels - telephone, SMS, email, and instant messaging - are used in parallel to ensure that critical instructions reach all relevant personnel even if primary systems remain offline.

VI. PERIODIC TESTING AND VALIDATION OF RANDOM NUMBER GENERATORS: METHODS, STANDARDS, AND CERTIFICATION FRAMEWORK

Random Number Generator (RNG) systems underpin the fairness and integrity of all virtual game outcomes on the platform. This section sets out the performance objectives, applicable technical standards, statistical testing methodologies, and third-party certification requirements that govern the periodic evaluation of RNG systems.

VI.1 Objective of RNG Quality Monitoring

Ongoing monitoring is necessary to verify that each deployed RNG continues to satisfy the unpredictability and impartiality requirements on which player trust and regulatory compliance depend. Each RNG system must at all times demonstrate:

Proven Randomness	Resistance to Manipulation	Ongoing Standards Compliance
Statistical uniformity and independence of outputs across all game sessions.	Structural resistance to external manipulation or pre-emptive prediction of results.	Continued adherence to generally accepted international standards for random number generation.

VI.2 Technical and Regulatory Compliance

All RNG systems must conform to globally recognised frameworks for random number generation, with specific requirements across three dimensions:

Cryptographic Integrity	Seed Security	Auditability and Documentation
Output generation must rely on cryptographically strong algorithms or hardware-based entropy sources with demonstrably high unpredictability.	Seed initialisation values must be derived from non-deterministic sources and generated in a manner that precludes sequence prediction.	The system architecture, generation logic, and data flow must be fully documented and available for regulatory inspection at any time.

VI.3 Statistical Testing Procedures

RNG output is evaluated through a comprehensive suite of diagnostic tests. Required procedures may include, but are not limited to:

Test Procedure	Analytical Purpose
Entropy Analysis	Measures the degree of randomness present in the output stream; a higher entropy score indicates lower predictability and a stronger randomness profile.
Frequency Distribution Analysis	Confirms that each possible outcome occurs with the expected statistical frequency over a defined number of trials, verifying uniform distribution.
Autocorrelation Evaluation	Assesses the degree of linear dependence between successive output values; significant correlation would indicate a failure of randomness.
Chi-Square Goodness-of-Fit Test	Compares the empirically observed distribution of outputs against a theoretical uniform probability model to identify systematic bias.

Runs Test

Identifies non-random clustering or anomalous repetition within output sequences that could suggest systematic patterns or algorithmic deficiencies.

VI.4 Third-Party Certification and Oversight

No RNG may be deployed on the Operator's platform until it has been independently certified by an internationally accredited testing laboratory. The certification process encompasses:

- a. verification of seed management controls and result logging procedures;
- b. independent statistical analysis of generated output samples; and
- c. source code review of the underlying generation algorithm.

Certifications are renewed on a recurring schedule to confirm continued conformity with applicable regulatory and technical requirements for licensed gaming platforms.

VI.5 Recognised Certification Authorities

RNG certification is accepted from the following reputable and accredited testing organisations, among others:

VII. GENERAL PRINCIPLES OF RESPONSIBLE GAMING

The Operator is committed to conducting its activities in a manner that minimises the risk of gambling-related harm and upholds the highest standards of player protection. The Responsible Gaming framework described in this section reflects both the requirements of the Curaçao regulatory regime and recognised industry best practice. Its objectives include the prevention of underage access, the identification and support of vulnerable individuals, and the promotion of informed and responsible play.

VII.1 Objectives of Responsible Gaming

The Operator's Responsible Gaming provisions are designed to achieve the following objectives:

- a. Comply with all applicable regulatory requirements and Gaming Licence conditions.
- b. Promote gambling as a form of leisure activity and not as a means of generating income.
- c. Prevent platform access by underage persons or other prohibited categories of user.
- d. Provide effective tools for self-limitation and self-exclusion.
- e. Detect early indicators of problem gambling behaviour and initiate timely intervention.
- f. Ensure that players and operational staff are adequately educated on gambling risks and available protective measures.

VII.2 Player Information and Transparency

Responsible Gaming (RG) resources are made prominently visible and easily accessible throughout the user interface. The RG Policy is published in multiple languages and is incorporated into the registration process, account management settings, and platform help pages.

The following information and tools are available to all registered players:

- a. Guidance on the responsible use of the platform, including recognition of warning signs of problematic gambling behaviour and access to external support services.
- b. A description of all available responsible gambling tools, including deposit limits, session timers, cooling-off periods, and self-exclusion.
- c. Real-time session tracking tools enabling players to monitor their play duration and transaction history.
- d. Age Verification Controls, as described in Section VII.3 below.

VII.3 Age Verification Controls

The following controls are applied to restrict access by persons below the legal gaming age:

- a. Confirmation of date of birth, together with ID and payment method ownership checks, forms part of the standard registration and verification workflow.
- b. Minimum age is confirmed at account registration.
- c. Government-issued photographic identification (such as a passport or driver's licence) is required for withdrawal processing and upon the occurrence of specified trigger events, including cumulative deposit thresholds.
- d. Where an account is identified as belonging to an underage user, it is closed immediately, all activity is voided, and any eligible funds are returned.
- e. The Operator recommends that users of shared devices make use of parental control software (such as Net Nanny or CyberSitter) to prevent underage access.

VII.4 Tools for Player Self-Control

Players may configure the following tools to manage their own gambling activity:

Tool	Description
Loss & Wager Limits	Where the platform's functionality supports it, players may set maximum loss or bet amount thresholds over a specified period.
Deposit Limits	Daily, weekly, and monthly deposit limits may be established by the player at any time. Reductions take effect immediately; increases are subject to a mandatory 7-day cooling period.
Reality Checks	Players receive automated notifications summarising their elapsed session duration and net financial outcomes at configurable intervals.
Session Timers	A live session clock is displayed throughout active gameplay to assist players in monitoring time spent on the platform.
Cooling-Off Periods	Account access may be suspended for a defined period of 24 hours, 7 days, 1 month, or 3 months. All marketing communications are paused for the duration of the cooling-off period.
Self-Exclusion Programme	Self-exclusion from the full platform - or from specified product verticals - is available with immediate effect. Fixed exclusion terms of 1, 3, 5, or 10 years, or permanent lifetime exclusion, may be selected by the player.

VII.5 Key Provisions of Self-Exclusion

- a. The player is immediately locked out of all gambling services upon activation, including account access, deposits, and wagering activity.
- b. Self-exclusion may be activated directly via the account interface at any time, without the need for staff assistance.
- c. Payment methods associated with the excluded account are blacklisted to prevent circumvention.
- d. An exclusion, once activated, cannot be reversed or shortened before the selected term has expired.
- e. Following expiry of the exclusion term, a written request is required to reactivate account access.

Exclusion may be applied to:

- one or more specific product verticals (e.g., casino, sportsbook); or
- the full platform including all associated mirror domains.

VII.6 Monitoring and Detection of Risk

Automated systems, including AI and machine-learning risk detection tools, operate in conjunction with human oversight to continuously evaluate player behaviour for indicators of potential harm. Accounts exhibiting any of the following patterns are flagged for review by the Responsible Gaming team and, where warranted, escalated for direct intervention:

- a. Attempts to open duplicate accounts.
- b. Reversal of pending withdrawal requests.
- c. Unusually high-frequency deposits or wager placements.
- d. Extended uninterrupted play sessions.
- e. Repeated modifications to responsible gaming limit settings.
- f. Use of multiple different payment methods within a short timeframe.
- g. Behavioural patterns indicative of heightened risk among younger users.

VII.7 Intervention Procedures

In cases where potential harm or behavioural risk is identified, the following steps may be taken:

- a. All interactions with the player are recorded in the Player Account Management system to ensure continuity of support and compliance with record-keeping obligations.
- b. A trained member of staff contacts the affected player to discuss available protective tools, including limit setting, time-outs, and self-exclusion.
- c. Players may be referred to appropriate third-party support resources, including national helplines and counselling services.

- d. Where deemed necessary, account access may be restricted by the Operator without prior request from the player, to prevent further harm.
- e. In cases of serious identified risk, the Operator reserves the right to impose mandatory exclusion or to permanently close the account.

VII.8 Staff Training and Role Definition

Customer-facing staff - in particular those working in customer service and VIP account management - receive structured annual training covering:

- a. Conducting sensitive discussions with affected players with appropriate empathy and professionalism.
- b. Recognising behavioural and verbal indicators of distress or problem gambling.
- c. Recording interactions accurately and escalating concerns through established internal channels.
- d. Presenting the appropriate tools and resources to players in a clear and accessible manner.
- e. Training content is reviewed and updated annually in light of internal audit findings, player feedback, and evolving regulatory and industry guidance.

VII.9 Marketing and Communication Restrictions

The Operator's marketing and player communications activities are subject to the following mandatory restrictions:

- a. The platform is not promoted as a financial opportunity or as a guaranteed source of profit.
- b. All promotional communications to players who have activated a self-exclusion or cooling-off period are suspended immediately and remain suspended for the duration of the restricted period.
- c. Promotional content is not targeted at minors or at individuals who have been identified as high-risk.
- d. Third-party affiliates and influencer partners are contractually required to comply with all applicable age, content, and audience restrictions.

VII.10 Compliance and Regulatory Reporting

Comprehensive records of all Responsible Gaming interventions, exclusions, limit settings, and related incidents are retained by the Operator. In the event that a self-excluded or underage individual is found to have accessed the platform:

- a. The incident is reported to the Curaçao Gaming Authority (CGA) without undue delay.
- b. The account is closed immediately.
- c. Any deposits received are refunded subject to applicable KYC and AML/CFT requirements.

Exclusion may additionally be initiated by the Operator where evidence exists of policy abuse, criminal conduct, or patterns of excessive gambling that give rise to a duty to act.

VIII. GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS

In accordance with Article 5.9, first paragraph, letter h, of the National Ordinance on Games of Chance, this section incorporates the current text of the general terms and conditions governing the relationship between the Operator and each player.
